Funded Programs

Australian Trade Training College is a Skills Assure Supplier (SAS) for a number of Queensland Government funded programs such as:

- User Choice Program
- Certificate 3 Guarantee
- Higher Level Skills
- Vocational Education and Training in Schools (VETiS)
- Free Apprenticeships for Under 25s

User Choice Program

The User Choice program provides a funding contribution towards the cost of training and assessment for eligible Queensland Apprentices and Trainees.

Apprenticeships and Traineeships:

- offer the opportunity to study, learn new skills and earn an income while undertaking a qualification
- can be done by anyone eligible and of working age
- can be studied full-time, part-time or while still at school

The User Choice program provides flexibility for apprentices/trainees and their employers to select their own preferred registered training organisation from a list of pre-qualified suppliers for the delivery of accredited training to meet specific needs.

Apprentices and trainees can only receive one government contribution for a user choice funded qualification at any single point in time. In addition, apprentices and trainees, including school-based apprentices and trainees, can only receive a maximum of two Government funded contributions under the current user choice program.

To be eligible for a government contribution towards the cost of training, a student must have entered into a training contract with their employer for a qualification that is funded and registered by their state department for Education or equivalent. An apprenticeship or traineeship can be arranged and formalised by contacting an Australian Apprenticeship Support Network (AASN).

This number is unique to each student, is nationally recognised and is mandatory for all students to supply upon enrolment. Language Literacy and Numeracy (LLN)

As part of the enrolment process, students must undertake a Language, Literacy and Numeracy (LLN) indicator Assessment. This process is used to identify the student’s current LLN skills and any areas of concern comparing it to the Australian Qualifications Framework level requirements of the qualification in which the student is enrolling. It is possible in some instances that students may not meet the Australian Qualifications Framework level requirements of the qualification therefore preventing successful enrolment. Australian Trade Training College trainers will provide LLN support where required, or refer students to an LLN specialist to assist with development of LLN skills to the requirements of the qualification and the industry they are/or wish to work in.

Credit Transfer

Australian Trade Training College recognises Australian Qualifications Framework Qualifications and Statements of Attainment that have been issued by other registered training organisations. Credit transfer may be applied to units of competency and related qualifications that have been studied in the past. Australian Trade Training College will only accept credit transfer for units of competency within the student’s individual support plan or training plan unit listing.

All students who hold a qualification or statement of attainment from another registered training organisation are to discuss the possibility of credit transfer during the enrolment process. Application for credit transfer will affect the final training plan or individual support plan, so all credit transfer applications need to be applied for and processed as quickly as possible.

Students will be required to provide a copy of the full qualification and unit listing or Statement of Attainment, or a unique student identifier transcript. These will be verified and, where the units of competency already successfully completed are equivalent to units in the training program, a credit transfer will be applied.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

Recognition of Prior Learning is an assessment process that involves making a judgment on the skills and knowledge an individual has as a result of past study and/or experience. The aim of recognition of prior learning is to recognise existing competencies without having to undertake training and assessment.

Competency may be recognised through:

- Formal or informal training and education the student has undertaken in the past;
- Work experience;
- General life experience;
- Any combination of these.

When applying for recognition of prior learning, Australian Trade Training College will provide a recognition of prior learning Candidate Kit that consists of a self-assessment questionnaire as well as comprehensive guidance for the collection of evidence that will demonstrate proficiency against each of the units of competency for which recognition of prior learning is being applied.

Students may be eligible to apply for recognition of prior learning on one or more units of competency in their training program. They should discuss this at the enrolment interview as early as possible at the commencement of the training program.

Be aware, recognition of prior learning may not be undertaken where the qualification or group of units may lead to a licenced outcome. This is determined by the licencing body, where they may not accept recognition of prior learning as a valid assessment pathway to the licence.

Where a recognition of prior learning application has been granted, students will have a maximum of six (6) weeks to gather and submit evidence for assessment. The recognition of prior learning process will take a maximum of 12 weeks from enrolment to completion. This is made up of six (6) weeks for the recognition of prior learning Candidate to gather and provide evidence and six (6) weeks for the assessor to complete the assessment process.

Please note: If you are in an Apprenticeship or Traineeship contract through your employer, RPL cannot be claimed for experience, skills or knowledge gained since commencing the current apprenticeship or traineeship. The RPL process cannot be commenced more than three (3) months after the training plan has been signed by all parties. If you are wishing to apply for RPL, please do so at Enrolment stage with us, as the RPL process and evidence is required to be based on previously unrecognised skills and knowledge achieved outside of the apprenticeship/traineeship.

For further information please visit the Queensland Department of Employment, Small Business and Training (DESBT) website: <https://desbt.qld.gov.au/training/training-careers/recognition/rpl>

For further information regarding recognition of prior learning, please visit our college website (www.attc.org.au) or contact us via training@attc.org.au.

The Training Journey

As part of the overall enrolment process, Australian Trade Training College will work with all parties to develop a personalised Training Plan (User Choice Apprentices and Trainees) or Training and Support Plan (non-User Choice Apprentices and Trainees) respectively, to address course requirements and any personal circumstances.

Apprentice / Trainee Training Plan

The apprentice/trainee training plan is developed in consultation between the student, employer and RTO, outlining the training to be provided by Australian Trade Training College and the employer; and the qualification that will be issued upon completion. It confirms that the selection of units of competency align with packaging rules for that qualification.

When all parties (apprentice / trainee, employer and Australian Trade Training College) have agreed to the Training Plan, all must sign to validate the document. Each party will receive a signed copy of the Training Plan within 14 days.

The Training Plan forms part of the requirements for the apprenticeship/traineeship under the training contract. For more information about training plans, please visit the Queensland Department of Employment, Small Business and Training (DESBT) website:

<https://training.qld.gov.au/apprenticeshipsinfo/information-resources/information-sheets/atis-040>

Training and Support Plan

The Training and Support Plan addresses course requirements for those undertaking training through Certificate 3 Guarantee, Higher Level Skills and Fee for Service. Training and Support Plan confirms the selection of units of competency align with packaging rules for that qualification.

The Training and Support Plan is developed and provided to students as a guide of predicted study progress to assist with keeping the student on track to completion within a reasonable timeframe. Training and Support Plan is to be confirmed via signature by the student agreeing to the terms of the Training and Support Plan.

Employer Resource Assessments (ERA)

The Employer Resource Assessment (ERA) addresses employment and training arrangements required under the Further Education and Training Act for each apprenticeship/traineeship qualification within the workplace.

Australian Trade Training College must capture and retain evidence that the employer has the ability to provide adequate range of work, workplace facilities and equipment, and supervisory arrangements for apprentices/trainees to successfully complete their training.

Workplace supervisors who will be signing off on assessments will be asked to provide copies of their industry qualifications / licences to confirm that they have the knowledge and skills to support the students learning. Where the employer is unable to provide suitable work arrangements, other options may be arranged such as workplace simulation at the college.

Once Australian Trade Training College is confident that the employer is able to provide acceptable supervision within the workplace, all parties (student, employer and trainer) must sign the Employer Resource Assessment to confirm information contained within the ERA is a true and accurate reflection of current workplace arrangements.

The ERA is to be updated whenever there are changes within the workplace, such as the commencement of a new apprentice/trainee or a change in supervisor. Consequently, Australian Trade Training College will review each ERA at intervals of no greater than three (3) months, which aligns with the legislative requirement to review a training record.

Attendance

Students must agree to attend scheduled classes or workplace training except where there is a legitimate reason for non-attendance which is acceptable to Australian Trade Training College (for example, illness supported by a Doctor’s Certificate).

Online study must be adhered to as per training plan timeframes.

Individual or Group Training

Training arrangements must be adhered to according to the individual training arrangements discussed and agreed to at the time of enrolment. Where formal training sessions have been arranged, attendance by the student is mandatory.

Cancellation of pre-arranged training sessions is required ten (10) working days prior to the scheduled training, or an additional fee may be charged.

Flexible training delivery means that formal training sessions may not be required. Self-paced training will still be monitored by the trainer to ensure progression occurs consistently throughout the qualification or training program.

Attendance at off-the-job training will be negotiated during development of the individual learning plan or training plan. It is the student’s responsibility to comply with this agreement.

The student will complete a ‘Student Contact Record’ document to confirm their attendance at all workplace and campus training sessions. Trainers will also complete a Student Contact Record to indicate any communication between trainer and student throughout the enrolment.

Apprentices/Trainees

The Apprentice/Trainee is to ensure that attendance at off-the-job training is maintained throughout their enrolment. The employer is to contact the trainer if there are any issues relating to students not able to be released from work so that alternative training arrangements can be made.

Apprentices/Trainees are to be aware that it is the employer’s responsibility to ensure that students are released from work to attend training. This requirement forms part of the training contract and is outlined in the Queensland Government Fact Sheet: ATIS-013 - Employer responsibilities

The trainer must be notified if students are sick on a training day. It is also important for the trainer to be notified if there is an unavoidable delay in student attendance. Students should refer to the Queensland Government Fact Sheet ATIS-003 Apprentice and trainee rights and responsibilities to ensure they are meeting all responsibilities under the training contract.

Student Code of Conduct and Behaviour

Just as Australian Trade Training College has a responsibility to meet the expectations of students, legislation and regulations, so too do students have obligations they are expected to meet.

It is expected that all students will actively participate in their own learning, commit to their studies, complete assessment within timeframes to the best of their ability, and behave in a manner that complies with workplace health and safety and is respectful to their trainers and of the opportunities for other students to learn and achieve.

Student Feedback

Australian Trade Training College is dedicated to ensuring its practices are constantly reviewed to ensure best practice and the highest quality of training and assessment services are delivered to all students.

This approach to continuous improvement requires feedback from students regarding their experiences whilst enrolled in their training program.

Australian Trade Training College welcomes and appreciates all feedback from students, employers and staff and uses the feedback to further improve our training program delivery.

All students are requested to complete feedback forms periodically throughout their training program and again at completion of their training program.

Course Progression and Student Support

All students are expected to progress through their course by completing their learning and assessment tasks in a timely manner to the best of their abilities.

An individual learning plan or training plan is provided to all students to assist in tracking progress in their training programs. Where assessment is completed using the online learning management system, progress tracking is available as each assessment task is completed.

For apprentices and trainees, Australian Trade Training College is responsible for ensuring that students continue to follow time lines established in their Training Plan. If the student fails to make reasonable progress relating to training components delivered, Australian Trade Training College will advise Department of Employment, Small Business and Training (DESBT) and the employer.

We understand that there may be instances where a student is unable to progress through personal or individual circumstances that impact on their ability to actively participate in their training program and complete required assessment. Where a student feels they are unable to progress, they are encouraged to discuss this with their trainer / assessor so that the individual support plan or training plan may be adjusted and assistance provided where required.

Where a student has a disability or learning difficulty, assessors will apply Australian Trade Training College reasonable adjustment policy. Reasonable adjustments are made to ensure that the student is not presented with artificial barriers to demonstrating achievement in the training program. Reasonable adjustments may include the use of adaptive technology, educational support, and alternative methods of assessment such as oral assessment.

Australian Trade Training College will endeavour to provide support to each student's individual needs, providing where necessary additional educational and support services for the student which are required for the student to meet the requirements of their training course. Competency Based Training

Vocational Education and Training in Australia is described as Competency Based Training.

Competency Based Training is an approach to training that focuses on allowing a student to demonstrate their ability to do something to an agreed level. In Vocational Education and Training, training and assessment, competency based training is used to develop a student’s skills and knowledge that are required to be successful in the workplace. Competency based training programs deliver qualifications that are made up of units of competency. Each unit provides benchmarks that have been developed in consultation with industry, to define the skills and knowledge required to effectively perform in the workplace. Competency based training assessment is based upon the learning outcomes expected from each unit of competency.

‘Competency’ embodies the ability to transfer and apply skills and knowledge to new situations and environments. Therefore, a student can either consistently apply the knowledge of skill to the standard of performance required in the workplace or they cannot – they are either ‘competent’ or ‘not competent’.

To be awarded a judgement of ‘Competent’ the student must successfully complete all assessment tasks set for the unit of competency. To be awarded a qualification, the student must demonstrate competency in all units of competency in the training program.

Assessment Information

To achieve a decision of competency, a student must complete all assessment requirements to a satisfactory level for each unit of competency they are enrolled in. This means that students will need to demonstrate their knowledge and their ability to apply that knowledge to the standard expected, consistently, over a period of time.

A variety of assessment methods will apply to each unit of competency, and these will reflect the learning outcome required. Each method of assessment will be explained to the student by their trainer/assessor prior to the commencement of training.

Australian Trade Training College ensures that all assessments students complete are conducted professionally to ensure its validity, reliability, flexibility and fairness.

The assessment methods used to gather evidence of a student’s ability to demonstrate competency by Australian Trade Training College include, but are not limited to:

Questioning	Written or oral questioning, conducting interviews and questionnaires.
Practical/ Workplace Site Tasks	A practical demonstration, with further supporting documentation, observed by the assessor in the workplace or a simulated work environment.
Report Writing / Projects	Formal business writing using supplied or workplace template, displays, presentations, samples of work.
Portfolio	A collection of work samples of annotated and validated pieces of evidence. Evidence could be written documents, photographs, videos or logbooks.

Third Party / Supervisor Reports/On-The Job	Supervisor verification of relevant skills and experience of on the job performance over a period of time together with employability skills. These are mandatory for apprentices/trainees.
Scenarios	Analysis of responses demonstrating the application of skills required to be demonstrated for the unit of competency. The student will be required to submit a portfolio of evidence for the scenarios.
Role Plays	A creative method to determine the level of knowledge, encouraging students to explore solutions to situations or problems under discussion.
Case Studies	Analysis of responses to case studies reflecting evidence required to demonstrate competency in the unit of competency.

Submitting Assessment

Students are expected to apply time management skills to the completion of assessment tasks within the timeframes provided by their assessor. Students will receive full and detailed instructions on the requirements of each assessment task, including its context and purpose; students are to ensure that they talk to their trainer/assessor to clarify anything that is not clear.

Assessments and any written evidence must:

- be legible if in hand-written form and free from errors (or have any mistakes neatly corrected). It is preferable that written assessments are word processed using a 12-point legible font. Written assessments are to be submitted single sided; do not use both sides of the paper;
- have a margin down the left-hand side of each page;
- have each page numbered, name clearly stated, unit code and name listed and dated;
- be securely submitted with all attachments;
- be saved as “student name unit code assessment task” to allow the assessor the ability to identify individual student files (eg. Joe Bloggs BSBDIV301 Task 1a).

Students must take a copy of all assessment submitted for their own records as no assessment will be returned. Should assessment fail to be received by Australian Trade Training College, the student will be asked to re-submit.

Cases of plagiarism will be returned and marked ‘Not Satisfactory’.

Where students are unsure about the presentation and preparation of assessments including being able to Word process assessments, they should discuss this with the trainer.

Assessment may be submitted via mail, email or uploaded to their LMS account where applicable.

Assessment Feedback

The assessor will provide students with relevant feedback regarding the outcome of their assessment submission. In all cases, the assessor will provide feedback about student performance.

Resubmissions

If students receive feedback that their assessment submission is ‘Not Satisfactory’ or ‘Not Yet Competent’, they will need to provide additional evidence to support their claim for competency.

This may mean that they are required to re-do some of the knowledge questions, add information or evidence to a portfolio, or demonstrate a practical task again.

Australian Trade Training College does not charge a fee for resubmission of assessment, if the resubmission is undertaken within one (1) month of receiving the result.

If, after three (3) resubmissions the work is still ‘Not Satisfactory’ or ‘Not Yet Competent’ students will be required to re-enrol in the unit and re-do the required work in order to achieve the full competency. Students may be charged a fee for any unit that they are required to re-enrol.

Where the student has applied for RPL and evidence does not meet the rules of evidence required, students may be required to resubmit further evidence or to undertake Gap Training for the unit that they are unable to demonstrate competency before gaining the full qualification. Units that require Gap Training will be charged a training fee.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is taking someone else’s work and/or ideas and passing them off as your own. It is a form of cheating and is taken very seriously. Plagiarism may lead to the student being withdrawn from their training program.

All work that students submit must be their own. Students will sign a declaration, or complete this online, at the start of each assessment stating this to be the case.

To assist students to understand, the following are some examples of plagiarism:

- Copying sections of text and not referencing or acknowledging where the information has come from
- Mashing together multiple ‘copy and paste’ sections without proper referencing or acknowledging where they have come from
- Presenting work that was done as part of a group as theirs alone
- Using information (for example, pictures, text, designs, plans, diagrams etc.) and not citing the original artist(s)/author(s)

Artificial Intelligence (AI) Policy

ATTC expects that all content generated in the course of undertaking studies with ATTC will be the Student’s own original work and any use of AI will be for assistive purposes only. Students may not claim AI generated content as their own work. The use of AI to take tests, complete assessments or research projects is strictly prohibited. The use of AI for these purposes constitutes cheating or plagiarism

Complaints and Appeals

Students are entitled to have matters of concern to them resolved through an orderly and consultative process.

Students are able to lodge an appeal if they disagree with a decision regarding an assessment outcome. If lodging an appeal, it must be done within 10 days of notification of the result. In the case of assessment appeals, appeal must be submitted ten (10) working days student being notified of the assessment result or decision by Australian Trade Training College and submitted to the RTO Manager c/o compliance@attc.org.au.

The Australian Trade Training College Complaints and Appeals Policy (POL002) can be found our website. Students are encouraged to refer to these procedures should they wish to lodge an appeal or complaint.

Issue of Qualification/Statement of Attainment

Under the Standards for Registered Training Organisations, Australian Trade Training College has an obligation to the student who has successfully completed a nationally recognised training program, to issue them with the appropriate Australian Qualifications Framework certification and a transcript of units successfully completed.

When a student has successfully gained a ‘Competent’ decision for each unit of competency in their training program, they will be issued with a Certificate of Full Qualification and unit listing within 30 days of completion, listing each unit of competency that has been completed.

Where a student has withdrawn or enrolment has been cancelled, they will be issued with a Statement of Attainment for all units that they have successfully gained a ‘competent’ decision.

A Statement of Attainment will also be issued for units of competency that do not lead to a full qualification but are still recognised as completed nationally recognised units of competency.

All certificates issued by Australian Trade Training College meet the requirements of the Australian Qualifications Framework and National Vocational Education and the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA).

Students who undertaken studies outside of an Apprenticeship/Traineeship, the Certificate or Statement of Attainment will be issued electronically. For hard copy of the Certificate or Statement of Attainment, students can contact training services via email training@attc.org.au or phone 0734145999 to request. Your copy will be posted within 5 business days of your received request.

All students will be requested to complete the ‘quality indicator survey’ at completion of their qualification as required by the Vocational Education and Training regulator.

Australian Trade Training College trainers and assessors are qualified and have extensive, relevant industry experience to train and assess training programs, and the Training and Assessment qualification required under the Standards for registered training organisations.

Third Party Arrangements

Where Australian Trade Training College has a partnership arrangement with third parties to deliver and assess training programs on behalf of Australian Trade Training College, we are required to monitor how the training and assessment is carried out and how each student is supported and progresses through the training program.
